3. Background

Upskilling (through RPL), one of the three components of Pradhan Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojana 4.0 (2023-24) (“PMKVY 4.0 (2023-24)”), focuses mainly on individuals engaged in the unorganized sectors. It is a skill certification component to enable a large number of Indian youths to take on industry-relevant skill certification which will help them to secure a better livelihood.

Upskilling (through RPL) seeks to actively contribute to existing skill development in India by establishing an outcome-driven implementation framework which evaluates and recognizes skills and knowledge acquired outside the classroom (informal learning or learning through work), helps people upskill / reskill (through total hours of training from 30-132 hours, including orientation), and acquire a formal qualification that matches their knowledge and skills, thereby contributes to improving their employability, lifelong learning, social inclusion, and self-esteem.

The objectives of Upskilling (through RPL) are primarily three-fold:

- To align the competencies of the pre-existing workforce of the country to the standardized National Skills Qualification Framework (NSQF);
- To enhance the employability and / or entrepreneurial opportunities of individual; and
- To provide opportunities for reducing inequalities based on privileges of certain forms of knowledge over others.

Finally, with the transition in the economy and world of work, many industries and sectors need to reskill and upskill their workforce. Thus, this upskilling also has a strong case to be extended to formal sectors/industry.

4. Key Features
